D. LOCAL EXCHANGE ACCESS LINE SERVICE TYPE

1. General

Local Exchange Access Line Service consists of an exchange access line terminated at the customer premise and is provided as Type II service. The service type available to customers at a given exchange is indicated in sheets 3.2-3.12 following.

BASIC TELEPHONE SERVICE

D. LOCAL EXCHANGE ACCESS LINE SERVICE TYPE (Continued)

3. Local Exchange Access Line Service Type II
 - a. Local Exchange Access Line Service Type II consists of Basic Exchange Service and Rural Zone Service if applicable. Basic Exchange Service Type II is described in paragraphs 3.b. and 3.c. following, and Rural Zone Service is described following. (D)
 - b. Within the Base Rate Area, as shown on Exchange Area Boundary Maps filed with the Michigan Public Service Commission, the Basic Exchange Service Type II rates for trunk, one-party, and semi-public access lines apply as shown on sheet 3.1 following.
 - c. Basic Exchange Service Type II monthly rates are a function of the assignment of each Telephone Company Exchange to a Rate Group, which is based on total access lines within the Local Calling Area. Rate Group classification and reclassification are based upon the information found in 2.c. preceding and rate groups are identified in each exchange on sheets 3.2-3.12 following.

E. CLASS OF SERVICE

1. Non-Selective Access Line

A Non-Selective Access Line is a one-party central office line providing communications capacity between the serving central office and communications switching equipment, normally installed on the customer's premises, arranged in such a manner that the station user has no control over which access line is connected to the station or other equipment for incoming or outgoing calls. Rural zone charges apply for this service in locations outside the base rate area. The trunk rate will apply for a Non-Selective Access Line.

E. CLASS OF SERVICE (Continued)

2. Selective Access Line

A Selective Access Line is a one-party central office line providing communications capacity between the serving central office and communications switching equipment, installed on the customer's premises, arranged in such a manner that the station user has selective capability over which access line is connected to the station or other equipment for incoming or outgoing calls. Rural zone charges apply for this class of service in locations outside the base rate area. The Business Trunk Rate will apply for a Business Selective Access Line and the Residence Key Rate will apply for a Residence Selective Access Line.

3. Rotary Line Service

A rotary line is any one-party service so arranged at the central office that if the number called is busy, the central office equipment selects another line in the customer's group that is idle. Rotary lines may be terminated on telephones, multi-line systems, PBX equipment or other equipment. Rural zone charges apply for this class of service in locations outside the base rate area. Special central office facilities or arrangements are required to provide rotary line service. Service provided through these facilities or arrangements constitutes rotary line service unless the use of these facilities or arrangements was solely at the option of the Telephone Company for purposes of optimizing central office equipment usage.

4. One-Party Service

A basic service which provides the customer exclusive use of the facilities from a customer's premises to the central office and exclusive use of the line equipment or similar equipment. Available within the base rate at rates set forth following. Rural zone charges apply for this class of service in locations outside the base rate area.
